UNIVERSITÀ DI MACERATA

Where your idea of the world begins

Founded in 1290, the University of Macerata - UniMC - is a public, student-centred university where academic excellence meets a welcoming human-scale environment.

Located in the heart of the Marche region, UniMC is one of the world's oldest universities and a distinctive Italian university with a strong focus on the social sciences and humanities.

With over 200 Erasmus+ partners and a global network spanning five continents, UniMC offers you outstanding international opportunities for study, research, and mobility.

At UniMC, you can combine the benefits of a global academic network with the personal attention and sense of community that only a human-scale university can offer.

Your Life in Macerata

Macerata is a vibrant and safe city, surrounded by rolling hills and close to both the Adriatic coast and the Sibillini Mountains. Here, you will enjoy a unique combination of high-quality education, rich cultural heritage, and an exceptional Italian lifestyle.

UniMC's city-centre campus offers an excellent quality of life, clean air and a vibrant cultural scene. In Macerata, you can enjoy an authentic Italian lifestyle, outstanding local food and easy access to both the coast and the mountains.

Co-funded by the European Union

UniMC is a proud member of the European Reform University Alliance (ERUA), a permanent alliance of universities across eight European countries (Bulgaria, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, Lithuania, Poland and Spain), united by a shared commitment to the social sciences and humanities.
