PhD course in Global studies
Justice, Rights, Politics
PRESENTATION
Global Studies (hereinafter GS) is firmly grounded on the scientific conviction that certain sets of problems dealing with the complexities of our societies and present-day time should be investigated with the advantage of a number of academic approaches, only one point of view being insufficient to tackle the depth and intricacy of these issues. For this reason, the topics within the programme are selected for being at the intersection of several branches of study. The topics are:
- Distance and Virtuality
- Law, Politics, and Knowledge
  How the Information Revolution, Media Coverage, and Global Problems Understanding - or the Lack of It - Affects Power, Citizenship, and the Quality of Democracy
- The Politics of Health, the Health of Politics
  Vulnerabilities, Care, Medicalisation, Healthcare Policy and Organisational Models
- Individual and Collective Responsibility in the Technological Age
  New Roles for Public Actors, New Spaces for Individual/Collective Responsibility
- Environmental, Economic, Financial and Social Sustainability
  Agriculture, Culture, Energy, Food, and Manufacturing
- Global Justice and Law
  Intersectional Understanding of Inequality
  National Authorities, Local Powers, Supranational Organisations, and Active Citizenship in the Fight against Inequality for a More Inclusive Economy and Society
- Consumption, Markets and Global Competitiveness
  Internationalization of Business, Integrated Reporting, Communication, CSR and the Consumer Ecosystem.

PROGRAM DATA
GS’s scientific board is highly interdisciplinary and international: the executive board, headed by Benedetta Barbisan, a comparative constitutional lawyer based at the University of Macerata and at Georgetown as a Visiting Professor of Law, is composed of members from a variety of disciplines and countries (Belgium, France, Italy, Spain, Russian Federation, United Kingdom, United States), flanked by a scientific board made of internationally distinguished scholars such as:

Giuliano AMATO
/ Italian Constitutional Court, former Vice-President of the European Convention, former Italian Prime Minister

Richard BELLAMY
/ Max Weber Programme, European University Institute

Guido CALABRESI
/ Yale Law School

Ana Marta GUILLEN RODRIGUEZ
/ Universidad de Oviedo
PhD course in Global studies
Justice, Rights, Politics

Vicki JACKSON
/ Harvard Law School
Mattias KUMM
/ Berlin Social Science Centre; NYU School of Law
Christopher McCRUDDEN
/ Queen’s University Belfast; Michigan Law School
Isabelle PINGEL
/ Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne
Marco ROSCINI
/ Westminster University
Antoon VANDEVELDE
/ KU Leuven
Armin von BOGDANDY
/ Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law – Heidelberg

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES
Candidates will be admitted to the interview when a very good evaluation according to these criteria is achieved:

a) evaluation of the master’s degree’s consistency with the PhD programme;
b) evaluation of the CV;
c) evaluation of the project statement’s quality, creativity and impact;
d) language proficiency

Interview will be conducted and assessed according to these criteria:

a) discussion with the candidate on the CV;
b) discussion with the candidate on the project statement’s quality, creativity and impact;
c) English language proficiency as emerged during the interview;
d) motivation

GS is aimed at educating skilled researchers capable of applying their scholarly experience in professional environments where the scientific ability to address complex matters is needed. Although the natural destination of this programme is the academia, GS commits itself to train new generations of scholars whose analytical and critical armamentary is valuable also to institutions, think-tanks, NGOs, groups of interests. Our ultimate aspiration is to raise a class of intellectuals and researchers combining a top-notch scientific background with a strong engagement in facing present-day challenges.