PLAN OF SCIENTIFIC ACTIVITIES
OF COMMON INTEREST
BETWEEN THE UNIVERSITY OF MACERATA (ITALY)
AND THE LUDWIG-MAXIMILLIENS-UNIVERSITÄT IN MUNICH - LMU (GERMANY)

- Considering the mutual interest of the University of Macerata (Italy) and -LMU Munich (Germany) in establishing adequate relationship for the development of studies in the field of Human, Political Sciences and Language and Culture of respective countries
- considering the existing agreement signed by the two Universities;
- considering the current regulations in the countries;

IT IS AGREED AND STIPULATED THE FOLLOWING

The aim is to develop a shared research project about "Spaces and Social Practices", which will look in depth at the meaning of spatiality for human beings. The project intends therefore to examine interwoven key concepts such as "space", "place", "body". We will try to comprehend those aspects for which places are not mere contexts, mere backgrounds on which events and actions take place, but rather they are active in the construction of relationships, groups, the imaginary and self-awareness. The aim, in particular, is to investigate the relevance of spatial forms with regard to the social sphere, also with reference to the presence of religion with its specific practices, symbologies, and rituals.

The interdisciplinary approach intends on one hand to foster the awareness that the complexity of the investigated phenomena requires the contribution of many disciplines, and on the other hand it aims to stimulate the contribution of readings and perspectives arising from different practices of knowledge (not only philosophy and religious studies but also law, social, historical and economic sciences, geography, disciplines of the arts, the sciences of language ...).

The two professors involved in this agreement have been collaborating for a long time on these issues, and this is reflected in their joint participation in conferences and workshops and in the publication of collective volumes.

The objective of this agreement is to: 1) stabilize a yearly basis for a comparison, an update, a sharing of the results obtained, 2) promote dissemination, 3) involve students who are in training in the process of investigation, having them experience the fruitfulness of an interdisciplinary work, of a dialogue between many cultural and linguistic traditions, different courses of study and methodological perspectives.
